Vital.
Necessary.
Rewarding.

Homeland Security Management (HSM) is a growing field. Our degree program will prepare students to serve as qualified Homeland Security personnel at the local, state and federal levels. This program incorporates elements of law enforcement, infrastructure security, emergency management and intelligence analysis to provide students a broad understanding of these career fields.

As an HSM major, you'll learn how to collect and analyze critical information … implement crisis management techniques … conduct criminal investigations … communicate effectively verbally and in writing … mine data to detect threats … and much more.
